A promotional poster for a mini-series. It features two men in a dark, industrial setting. The man on the left has long hair and a beard, wearing a leather jacket. The man on the right is older, balding, and holding a large black rifle. A motorcycle headlight is visible in the lower foreground. The title 'THE LAST CHAPTER II: THE WAR CONTINUES' is written in large white letters across the center. At the bottom, it says 'A primetime dramatic mini-series Starring Michael Ironside and Roy Dupuis'.

The Last Chapter II: The War Continues,

a dramatic mini-series set in the world of outlaw biker gangs, immerses the viewer in the internecine struggle between ambitious, determined and desperate men in pursuit of control, power and wealth. It explores the psychology of men who have chosen crime as a way of life and are advancing their careers as vigorously as any legitimate businessman.

Bob Durelle (Michael Ironside), president of the Toronto chapter of the Triple Sixers, one of the largest outlaw biker gangs in the world, is at the height of his power and influence. He has no meaningful opposition either within his organization or outside of it, and the police have been unable to touch him. But Bob's world begins to crumble when the International President of the Sixers is assassinated in his presence. This is the first in a series of events which spiral out of control and threaten to overwhelm Bob: Bob's wife Karen (Marina
